

Services

My services are designed to meet you where you are – whether you prefer personalized one-on-one guidance, the motivation of a supportive group, or a blend of both.

- Individual Sessions

Personalized sessions with a flexible timeframe, tailored to your unique needs. The overall length depends on the frequency of our meetings, but to see lasting results and ensure new habits become part of your routine, a minimum commitment of around 90 days is generally recommended. These can also be ongoing for continuous support and the best results.

- Group Sessions

A 12-week structured program designed to provide both education and accountability in a supportive community setting. Each week builds on the last, combining evidence-based strategies with practical tools you can immediately apply. The group format creates connection, motivation, and shared learning – helping you stay consistent while realizing you're not alone in your journey.

The 12 weeks serve as a strong foundation, with the option to continue for additional support if you'd like to maintain momentum and long-term results.

- Individual & Group Sessions

The best of both worlds – a blended option that begins with a 12-week foundation and can be extended as needed for continued guidance and accountability beyond the program.

- If you're unsure which option is the best fit, don't hesitate to reach out – I'm happy to answer your questions and help you determine the path that will work best for you.
- If you're ready to start your transformation, the first step is to fill out a brief intake form. This helps me understand your goals and see if we're a good fit. After reviewing it, I'll invite you to a free 15-minute discovery call so we can discuss next steps together

Start Your Journey Questionnaire

1. Current Stage of Action

Describe where you are right now in your health, wellness, or lifestyle journey. What steps have you taken so far, and what has brought you to this point?

2. Commitment & Readiness

What does being fully committed to this program look like for you? How prepared do you feel to dedicate time, energy, and focus to achieving your goals?

3. Motivation & Lifestyle Fit

What motivates you to make changes at this point in your life? How do you see this program fitting into your daily routines and lifestyle?

4. Your Personal "Why"

Why is now the right time for you to focus on this journey? Imagine reaching the end of the program – what would success look and feel like for you?

5. Obstacles & Support Needs

What challenges or barriers have held you back from reaching your goals in the past, and what kind of support would help you overcome them now?